BellSouth® FastAccess® Telecommute

What exactly is BellSouth® FastAccess® Telecommute?

Recognizing the growing need for remote access solutions for work-at-home employees, BellSouth offers you BellSouth FastAccess Telecommute Service. This service utilizes proven Digital Subscriber Line (DSL) technology to allow you and your employees to stay connected through high speed Internet access. Using existing telephone lines, work-at-home employees will be able to access critical information at speeds up to 50 times faster than a dial-up modem*. This boosts productivity and lets your employees work as efficiently at home as they do at work.

Value at a glance:

Everyday, businesses like yours are realizing the benefits of home telecommuting, or "tele-working." The total market for tele-workers is projected to grow to over 37 million by 2004.

The benefits of BellSouth FastAccess Telecommute

Speed – Download and upload files in seconds rather than minutes. With BellSouth FastAccess Telecommute, your employees can download a 3.75 Megabyte file, more than two floppy disks full of data, in as little as 20 seconds, compared to over nine minutes with a 56K modem. Less time waiting means higher productivity and efficiency for your tele-working employees.

Rapid Access – No more waiting to dial-up and no more busy signals. Your time and your employee's time is too valuable to waste with old-fashioned dial-up connections. With BellSouth FastAccess Telecommute, Internet access is readily available, right from home.

Multiple Tele-workers – Whether you have a business with one tele-worker or multiple tele-workers, BellSouth FastAccess Telecommute offers comprehensive solutions so all of your work-at-home employees operate at incredible speeds. Of course, with a large volume of tele-workers, not only will you benefit from the time efficiencies and the cost savings, you may also be eligible for a discount pricing structure for all your work-at-home solutions.

Value – BellSouth FastAccess Telecommute virtually eliminates the need for a dedicated Internet phone line and multiple dial-up accounts for your work-at-home employees by allowing them to access the Internet and talk or fax at the same time. BellSouth also provides you with unlimited Internet access.

Reliability – Get high-speed Internet service from a reliable company that you can trust to be around today and in the future. BellSouth is committed to supporting your business and tele-working needs.

Installation – BellSouth provides professional installation for your new tele-workers at a reasonable cost.
